PREFACE

In 1901, when the facsimile of the manuscript of the Kashmirian Atharva Veda was published, the Vedic Seminar at Johns Hopkins University began to study it; at Bloomfield's suggestion I edited Book One as a thesis for the doctorate and it was published in 1905. After that book appeared, as both Bloomfield and Garbe had become interested in other fields, I was encouraged to continue work on this text and in this volume the last books are now published. Although there arise regrets that a more satisfactory edited text has not been established, there has been a strengthening of belief that the text is valuable and that profitable studies can be made of its relations to other texts, as Roth, Garbe, Bloomfield, Lanman and others long ago perceived: the contribution of this text in the matter of variant readings is large but neither very valuable nor negligible.

Long ago I began to make a concordance of the pādas of this text, which is now complete though not finally revised: any information which it contains will be available on request. The matter of a revision of the entire text is at present in a state of uncertainty.

It will be observed that beginning with Book Sixteen the transliteration of the entire text of each hymn is given in a bloc followed by the edited text and then some notes. This style after a long time commended itself as the best, in spite of the necessity of frequent daggers. The few signs used in the edited texts conform to the usage normally observed in Greek and Latin texts as recommended by the Union Académique Internationale in 1932. The Śāradā sign (intervocalic) which I have hitherto usually transliterated "ḍ" I now give as "ḷ"; it is very different from Śāradā ḍ. The errors in my edition of Books Sixteen and Seventeen have distressed me because they are so numerous and many are so serious: a list of corrections accompanies this volume.

It is a pleasure here to make acknowledgment of the grant in aid of publication made to the American Oriental Society by the American Council of Learned Societies to defray in part the cost of publishing these last two books. I also acknowledge with gratitude my indebtedness to Professor W. Norman Brown for his editorial supervision, and to the J. H. Furst Company for its care in the manufacture of the book.

THE KASHMIRIAN ATHARVA VEDA, BOOK NINETEEN

Introduction

In length the nineteenth book of the Pāippalāda here presented is second to the sixteenth which is far the longest, but it has difficulties as many and as varied as any of the preceding books, particularly in the manner in which its hymns are put together. To be able to accomplish no more in the establishing of the text continues to be disappointing.

Of the ms.—This nineteenth book in the Kashmir ms begins f239b9 and ends f268a18, almost twenty-eight and one half folios. The number of lines on the page varies from 18 to 21, most of the pages having either 19 or 20 lines each, and a small number have either 18 or 21 lines each. The folios are in good condition; there are small cracks or chipped places on only half a dozen folios and these cause the loss of only a few signs. My copy of the manuscript in the library of the Bombay Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society has been useful for confirming some readings.

Punctuation, etc.—In this book we find again irregular punctuation: to mark the end of a hemistich or stanza either the colon (vertical bar) or virāma is used, and the period (“z”) appears very regularly at the end of hymns to set off numerals which appear properly after almost all hymns, being absent after only five hymns; “anu 3” stands after hymn 15 instead of “3.” Within the hymns no stanzas are numbered.

The hymns are arranged in fourteen anuvākas, each consisting of four hymns except the last which has three: there are fifty-five hymns in the book. A proper colophon follows each anuvāka except the last, after which stands only the colophon which indicates the end of the book.

Accents are marked on 85 stanzas or parts of stanzas in 28 different hymns: a few less than 20 of the accented pādas appear only in AVPāipp, and it is evident all through this ms that its accented stanzas usually are known elsewhere.

Extent of the book.—The 55 hymns of this book are grouped in 14 anuvākas of fairly equal length (counted by stanzas) except the eleventh in which my numbering of the stanzas may be at fault. Pāippalāda Books 16-18 consist of material which in Ś is arranged as long hymns subdivided into decads, whereas in Pāipp the decads are given as separate hymns. Now in this Book 19 the manner of arrangement is reversed and groups of three stanzas (such as are separate hymns in Ś Book 6 and elsewhere) are put together to make up a long hymn, and the stanza norm for the book is 15. Parts of some hymns, such as 44, 53, and 54, are prose. The following table gives clearly some statistics.

1	hymn	has	13	stanzas	=	13
6	hymns	have	14	stanzas each	=	84
24	"	"	15	"	"	= 360
11	"	"	16	"	"	= 176
6	"	"	17	"	"	= 102
2	"	"	18	"	"	= 36
4	"	"	19	"	"	= 76
1	hymn	has	24	stanzas	"	= 24
55	hymns	have				871

New and old material.—This Book 19 has much of the material of Ś Book 6 for of the latter's 142 hymns 107 are represented to some extent in this book; 314 stanzas of Ś Book 6 are given here. It may properly be noted that 128 hymns of Ś Book 6 are represented somewhere in Pāippalāda. Also represented here to some extent are hymns from Ś Books 1, 2, 3, 5, 7, 19, and 20: all told 410 stanzas which occur in Ś are represented here by at least two connected pādas. Further there are stanzas which do not appear in Ś but are known in other texts: 31 such are in RV, 24 in its Book 10; and 3 such are RV khilas. Counting in similar manner we find that Book 19 has 9 stanzas which appear also in Yajus texts and 22 stanzas which appear in ancillary texts. The sum total of the stanzas in this book which have some parallel is 475.

St 1 is § 6. 63. 4; 2-4 are § 6. 64; 5-7 are § 6. 52; 8-10 are § 6. 24;
11-13 are § 6. 19; 14-16 are § 6. 18.

St 4. This stanza appears Pāipp 1. 53. 4 as here except that for c it reads as 3c here: and just before it there stands anyāis ca. For the first four stanzas here cf RV 10. 191.

St 5. In pāda b the ms clearly reads joruhāt which supports °jūrvat slightly. This is RV 1. 191. 9.

St 7. This is RV 1. 191. 4; somewhat similar also are Pāipp 1. 111. 2 and 4. 16. 6.

St 8. The corrections proposed seem simple: it would make for concinnity if we could read sravanti, as § does, in a and gacchanti in b.

St 12. Pādas bc occur 24. 11bc below.

Stt 1 and 2 are § 6. 41. 1 and 3; 3-5 are § 6. 57; 6 and 7 are § 6. 58
 1 and 2; 8 is § 6. 39. 2; 9-11 are § 6. 73; 13 is § 6. 94. 2.

St 1. In pāda a namo of the ms would be possible except for the meter.

St 8. See above in this book 8. 9.

St 9. § has cettuh in pāda d; the pāda as edited here has thirteen syllables, a serious fault.

St 10. Ś has śuṣmo in a and ākūtir yā in b; the ms undoubtedly reads as given here, but it is hard to get an acceptable interpretation.

St 13. The form kṛṇotu in c is probably due to the same form in the end of 14b.

St 14. This stanza has no parallel: vrātebhir would be a betterment in d.

St 1 is Ś 7. 52. 2; 2 is Ś 6. 94. 1; 3 and 4 are Ś 6. 74. 2 and 1; 5 is Ś 7. 52. 1; 6 is Ś 6. 74. 3; 7-9 are Ś 6. 75; 10 is Ś 7. 65. 1; 11 and 12 are Ś 2. 7. 2 and 1; 13-16 are Ś 6. 76.

St 1. Pāda a is very close to RV 10. 30. 6c; the corruption probably extends to yacchantu: in c yuktā may be an error for ut thur as in Ś.

St 2. This is also Ś 3. 8. 5; Ś 6. 94. 2 appears above as hymn 10. 13.

St 3. Pādas cd occur below as 19. 8cd.

St 6. In pādas cd Ś has °māna imān ° ° kṛdhīha.

St 7. This and the next two stanzas show closer agreement with TB 3. 3. 11. 3 and 4 and APS 3. 14. 2 and 3 than with Ś. In 8c triṇy ati is what ought to stand.

St 10. This is Pāipp 2. 26. 4; its repetition is indicated at 5. 23. 4, which is followed by a variant of Ś 2. 7. 2; so I have taken ity aṣṭarcikyu to indicate the repetition here of 5. 23. 4 and 5.

St 5. With pāda d cf Ppp 2. 71. 5b.

St 8. This appeared as Pāipp 1. 111. 1, and is RV 10. 60. 11; in Book 1 Ppp has viṣam at the end but RV has rapaḥ as here.

St 9. Pādas ab appeared in Pāipp 3. 2. 7 and 5. 18. 9.

St 11. The supplying of cd seems justified by the habits of the ms.

St 14. For this cf VS 13. 22 and other Yajus texts; and for st 15 cf VS 18. 48 and others.

Stt 1 and 2 are Ś 6. 110. 2 and 3; 5-7 are Ś 6. 50; 13 is Ś 1. 3. 8ab7ab.

St 1. Pādas ab here are Ś 2a and 3c, making a better pair; possibly d is a variant of Ś 2c, aty enaṁ neṣad etc.

St 2. Pāda d has no exact parallel: the second person in c here and in st 1 is an improvement.

St 3. Pāda a is Ś 1. 22. 3a; in b vipinvate is doubtful, as is nyaṣṭakās in c.

St 5. The only further suggestion I can make is nakham ca for nakhasam.

St 7. The forms tṛṣṭadaṅśmā and upādḍhvam are doubtful.

St 8. Pāda a hardly seems satisfactory; in c yatame 'sutr̥pas might be considered.

St 11. Pāda a appears as Ś 6. 80. 1a.

St 12. With this and the next cf Pāipp 20. 40. 2 and 3; Ś 1. 3. 7 and 8.

Stt 7-9 are Ś 6.141; 10-12 are Ś 6.22; 15 is Ś 7.19.1 varied.

St 1. For this and the next cf RVKh 7.55.10 and 9; and further our stt 1-3 appear in various Yajus texts and others, notably NilarU 18-20.

St 5. In pāda a puṁsavanena may be the correct reading: for d cf RV 1.125.2b.

St 7. At the end of d Ś has bhūmne cikitsatu, which makes our reading seem doubtful.

St 10. If bhṛtena is accepted in d it does not fit very well with vy udyate: it may be merely a mistake in oral transmission for ghṛtena as in other texts.

St 14. In pāda d we seem to have gāvah as acc. plural.

Stt 9-11 contain parts of Ś 6.44.1, and Ś 6.105.2 and 3.

St 1. In pāda b jajñīṣe would be far better, but perhaps not necessary.

St 2. In pāda c Bm has sahasra° and the word occurs twice in Ś thus.

St 4. In pāda c apāsyāḥ is given by Kāus 97.8 where this and the next two stanzas appear.

St 7. In pāda a there is a slight defacement of the birch-bark but I feel confident that the transliteration above is very nearly correct; it is strange that Bm has here triṣuptā māsā* imās.

St 9. Pādas ab appeared above as 16.1ab.

St 10. Pādas ab appear as Pāipp 20.54.7ab.

St 11. Following Ś 6.105 we might read for c evā tvam * * prā pata. The ms indicates no lacuna.

St 12. In pādas cd if we emend to kāsā we get very nearly Ś 6.105.3cd.

St 14. In pāda a avagamena would be an improvement; cd are RV 10.173.6cd, also 6.4cd above.

Stt 1-3 are Ś 19.38; 4-6 are Ś' 6.30; 7-9 are Ś 19.4.2-4; 16-18 are Ś 6.128.1-4 with omissions.

St 2. Pādas ab as given here are not in Ś, whose st 2 is our 2cd plus 3: it is as easy to suppose that the pādas were omitted from Ś as to think that they are a dittography here. Ś has iverate at the end of d.

St 4. This has appeared as Pāipp 9.8.2.

St 6. Pādas cd here are new.

St 9. In pāda d it may be that the ms intends what Ś has, sa supranītaḥ.

St 10. This and the next three stanzas are RV 10.57.3-6, and are quoted in full in Kāuś 89.1.

St 16. This and the next three stanzas appear AVParīśiṣṭa Ib1.1-4, where they with three others are called pāippalādā mantrāḥ. The Ś version is very different.

Stt 1 and 2 are Ś 7. 70. 1 and 2; 3 is Ś 7. 71. 1; 4 is Ś 7. 70. 3; 8-10 are Ś 6. 109; 11 and 12 are Ś 6. 29; 13 is Ś 6. 28. 3; 14-16 are Ś 6. 72.

St 1. For this see also TB 2. 4. 2. 1, which has diṣṭād in d; dṛṣṭād may be only an error.

St 3. This stanza is repeated from Ppp 16. 8. 2 (Ś 8. 3. 22); it appears elsewhere also.

St 4. In pāda a svarājāv or svarājānāv would suit well.

St 8. Pādas cd are RV 10. 97. 17cd, and are accented in the ms.

St 11. This is very near to RV 10. 165. 4, and varies greatly from Ś; abd occur below as 48. 3abd.

St 16. In pāda a Ś has tāyādaram, but that gives no help.

St 2ab is Ś 4. 20. 6; 3ab is Ś 4. 20. 5cd; 4-7 are Ś 1. 27; 12 is Ś 6. 44. 3; 14-16 are Ś 6. 49.

St 2. This seems to be essentially Ś 4. 20. 6, which has as its d iti tvā rabha oṣadhe.

St 3. Pādas ab have appeared as Ppp 3. 22. 5cd and 8. 6. 11cd.

St 12. The second part varies much from Ś: cf also Ś 19. 32. 3b: bolder emendation would give ° nāma vā asi vātīkṛtasya bheṣajī.

St 13. Pādas cd are also Pāipp 1. 17. 4cd.

St 15. It does not seem to me that Pāipp offers here any helpful reading; nor in the next stanza where pāda d is much varied from the other texts.

Stt 1-3 are § 6. 129; 14 is § 6. 69. 2.

St 2. Pāda c as emended is doubtful; one might have expected something like bhago me 'stu etc.

St 4. Pāda b occurs § 4. 9. 9b and elsewhere.

St 5. Pādas a-c have appeared as Pāipp S. 12. 3a-c.

St 6. In pāda a puruṣād does not seem to match well with nīhārād and vidyutām.

St 8. The variation in this st and the next between vibhīdakam and vibhītakas is striking.

St 14. The pādas bcd are supplied from § 6. 69. 2; I have not found the previous occurrence in the birch-bark.

St 2cd is § 6. 45. 1cd; 6 is § 19. 40. 1; 7 and 9 are § 3. 24. 5 and 3; 14cd is § 3. 20. 2cd.

St 1. For pādas ab see Pāipp 5. 34. 8ab. In d avihvṛtā (instrumental case) is not quotable: in f258b13 the break in the birch-bark is larger than indicated in transliteration, but I am confident of the reading except “si” which might be mi, as is given in Bm.

St 2. For cd see above 36. 4cd.

St 3. In pāda d the ms reading is clear, and it is possible that 1e should read as 3d.

St 4. This is RV 10. 164. 1; see also above 36. 4.

St 5. This is RV 10. 164. 2; not in hymn 36 above. In b dakṣiṇām could be kept, I think.

St 6. If the last part of this stanza, which I have cut out, shows a variant of sphṛ emendation is possible.

St 8. The form given for 8cd is uncertain, if possible.

St 9. The insertion of pādas ab of § 3. 24. 3 here improves the division into stanzas.

St 15. At the end of d dakṣiṇām might well stand.

St 16. For this cf TS 3. 5. 5. 3; b as here is § 18. 2. 47d.

St 1. Pādas a-c are § 1. 1. 1a-c, much varied, and d is new: Pāipp 1. 6 is § 1. 1.

St 2. In pāda a candramatī is anomalous, if possible. Pāda d occurs as § 4. 19. 6d and several times in Pāipp.

St 3. In pāda b perhaps kṛtyāsmā etan could be accepted.

St 4. With pāda a cf § 4. 3. 2a; variants of e are listed.

St 5. Pādas ab appear Pāipp 7. 1. 10cd; cd = RV 10. 97. 14ab.

St 9. In pāda b bhrūnā seems to be possible; with c cf § 6. 130. 4a.

St 12. For this see § 6. 117. 1 and Pāipp 16. 49. 10.

St 13. In pāda d saṁmanaso is possible.

St 2. The regular gender of śila is masculine.

St 4. This and the next two stanzas are in Kāuś 47. 16.

St 5. It is worth remark that Kāuś mss as well as Pāipp read rakṣataḥ in b.

St 6. This is repeated from Pāipp 15. 3. 4; it is also Ś 19. 44. 4.

St 15. Pādas ab are Kāuś 33. 9ab.

Stt 4-6 are Ś 6. 51; 10-12 are Ś 6. 47; 13-15 are Ś 19. 1.

St 1. For a similar stanza see PG 3. 16. 1; d here is emended to read as HG 1. 24. 6b.

St 2. It seems probable that a first hemistich has been lost here.

St 4. In pāda a Ś has vayoḥ as do some YV versions; VS 10. 31 and others read as here: all YV texts except TS have the stanza more than once.

St 5. This appears also RV 7. 89. 5 with carāmasi in b and acittī yat tava in c, where Ś has acittī cet. TS and MS have the stanza as in RV.

St 6. This is repeated from Pāipp 6. 3. 4.

St 10. In pāda b Pāipp alone has pathikṛd: in c Ś alone has draviṇe; TS, MS, KS, KŚ have the stanza.

St 12. In pāda b Ś has ye camasaṃ āirayanta; in d nayantu.

St 13. In pāda a Ś has sravantu nadyaḥ.

St 14. Pādas ab here are 3ab in Ś; 2ab of Ś are our 15ab.

Stt 4-6 are Ś 19. 59; 13ab is Ś 1. 34. 4ab.

St 1. In pāda a it seems that ākho and avākho are nominatives, rather than vocatives of ākhu and (?)avākhu.

St 3. Pāda a as here is Ś 6. 91. 3a, and has appeared in Pāipp as 3. 2. 7a, 5. 18. 9a, and 19. 18. 9a.

St 5. In pāda c the ms seems to point to viśvād as the reading of AV as contrasted with viśvam of RV 10. 2. 4c, and TS and MS.

St 6. At the end of d Ś and others, notably Kāuś 5. 12, have kalpayāti.

St 7. In pādas ab the only suggestions I have are dhotā and possibly yena vividham. Pāda d is Ś 5. 8. 8d and 6. 75. 2d, 3d, which are Pāipp 7. 8. 9d and 19. 15. 9d.

- St 8. Pādas cd appear above 36.1^{cd}.
 St 9. In pādas cd it might be better to read sūrya udyan ° ° karat.
 St 13. This occurs Pāipp 8. 20. 4ab.
 St 14. This has some similarity to RV 10. 166. 5.

St 1. This and the next three stanzas are in Kāus 42.17, in full. Kāus has enat in b, and at the end of d I have given Bloomfield's emendation.

St 2. Again in b Kāus has enat; in d it has grṇātv.

St 4. In pāda a Kāus has vratāni, but I believe our text can stand.

St 5. This and the next three are RV 10.169, also in TS and KSA. For pāda c the others have pīvasvatīr j. pibantu.

St 6. In pāda b RV and TS have iṣṭyā nāmāni for ūdho vo janma, and KSA has niṣṭyā.

St 7. In pāda c others have payasā pinv. and in d they have rirīhi.

St 8. This is RV 4ac3c and Ś 18.2.29d; in b KSA has at the end āśuḥ.

St 9. In pāda a kanikranti would be suitable.

St 11. At the end of d śardhayat would seem better.

St 12. This is Ś 3.17.3, appearing also in YV texts; none have somapitsalam, which may be an easier reading and is certainly better.

St 13. Pādas ab here are Ś 3.15.6cd and RV 4.57.4cd; they appear as Pāipp 12.6.3ab. Ś and RV have in a varatrā badhyantām.

St 17. A good pāda d would be saha harasā balena.

THE KASHMIRIAN ATHARVA VEDA, BOOK TWENTY

Introduction

The twentieth and last book of the Pāippalāda here presented is long if compared with half of the books, and is exceeded in length by only three, the first, sixteenth, and nineteenth. It has certain features of arrangement which give it a similarity to Book 19.

Of the ms.—This twentieth book in the Kashmir ms begins f268a13 and ends f288a8, almost exactly 19½ folios. Nearly all the pages have 19 or 20 lines of script, a few have only 18. The birch-bark is in good condition for the most part: there are a few small cracks and chippings, and five folios show breaks that cause some loss of text; the lower half of f279a has no writing on it, and on four other pages dots seem to indicate lacunae in an ancestor of our ms. There are some marginal corrections.

Punctuation, etc.—For marking the end of a hemistich or stanza the colon (vertical bar) is used most frequently, sometimes virāma is used and sometimes both are used: at the ends of hymns the numerals are set off between periods (“z”), and colophons similarly. After each hymn in this book, excepting two, a numeral is placed to indicate its order in the anuvāka: one of the missing numerals should have been on the blank part of f279a (hymn 30), the other should have been on f286a17 at the end of hymn 55. Stanzas are not numbered. There are ten anuvākas of varying lengths: at the end of each anuvāka is its proper colophon, and after the last colophon is given the name of the scribe and the date, but no general colophon for the book or for the whole work.

Accents.—Accents are marked on some stanzas of 19 hymns in this book, but in no hymn on more than 6 stanzas: accents appear in 10 of the first 15 hymns and on 9 of the last 32; all the stanzas on which accents are marked occur in other texts, mostly in the saṁhitās of course.

Extent of the book.—This book has 61 hymns in its 10 anuvākas. The arrangement of the material is similar to that in Book 19, in that we have here many of those stanzas which singly are numbered as separate hymns in Ś Book 7, and with such we may find here stanzas or groups of stanzas which appear in other texts, or yet others which are new: such stanzas occur here in groups of ten to a hymn for the most part, though a goodly number of “hymns” have more or fewer than 10 stanzas. Hymns 42, 45, and 53 are prose and some stanzas in nine or ten other hymns are prose. A table of statistics is given as has been done in the other books.

61							566 stanzas

New and old material.—Of the 566 stanzas in this Book 20 there are 278 stanzas which occur also in Ś or some other text: 154 stanzas out of the 286 which constitutes Ś Book 7 appear here; 55 stanzas which are in other parts of Ś appear here also; and 69 stanzas appear here which are in other Vedic texts but do not occur anywhere in Ś. Furthermore there are scattered about in connection with new material 97 pādas which are listed in the Concordance. Of the 69 stanzas which appear here and in other texts but not in Ś, some appear here and in only one other text, some here and in several or many others: among such stanzas, it seems appropriate to remark, there are 25 which appear in RV and there are 10 which appear only in Kāuśika and Pāippalāda: such relationships will make interesting subjects for investigation.

St 1. This is repeated from Ppp 5. 30. 1.

St 7. At the end of d adūduṣat might be acceptable.

St 8. In pāda c Ś has vihrutasya; the same variation occurs elsewhere.

St 10. The syllables aha before mukhāny could be emended to ā: but perhaps they should be dropped.

Stanza 5 is Ś 2. 36. 8; 6 = 19. 15. 2; 7ab = 10. 4. 6ab.

St 1. In pāda a ābhṛtam would seem better: c is NīlarU 1c.

St 5. This is perhaps worse than Ś. Though both the birch-bark and Bm seem to indicate a lacuna I think the birch-bark does not do so: Bm copied the birch-bark.

St 6. This is repeated from Ppp 3. 35. 2.

St 7. Both Ś and Ppp 16. 15. 6ab have pāidva for bhaga.

St 9. The two words of pāda b are found together in MS 2. 7. 12: 92. 15.

St 3. For yagu Ś has apāyātāi in a: in b it has cāsadanāvayāḥ; in c kladīvataḥ.

St 5. With this and the next two stanzas cf RVKh 10. 151. 1 and 2, also SMB 1. 5. 9 and HG 1. 8. 4.

7.35.2; 7.38.1ab2ab.

St 1. In pāda a tārā uta might stand: in d Ś has asisrasan.

St 2. This agrees with RV 5.60.1 in having svavasam in a, prasatto in b, and pradakṣiṇin in d.

St 3. This is also RV 10.13.5, varying from Ś and RV especially in c; note in b padvataḥ for their ṛtāni.

St 4. In pāda c Ś has drughaṇaḥ which is better.

St 5. RV 9.67.29 also omits the pāda d of Ś.

St 7. Pāda d is a variant of Ś: we might read indrāṇī k. patim.

St 8. This is repeated from Pāipp 1.55.3.
